REPARATIONS CONFERENCE WOBBLY; END NEAR, BELIEF

Everybody Trying To Prevent A Breakdown

PARIS ADAMANT

Cabinet Telegraphs To Poincare To Stand Pat

(Reuter's Service)

London, August 10.—It is stated in British official quarters that nothing has hitherto developed really relieving the position of the Allied conference though everybody is trying to prevent a breakdown. It is felt that unless there is some radical change tomorrow's proceedings are hardly likely to be prolonged.

Paris, August 10.—The special Cabinet meeting summoned to deal with regard to the inter-Allied conference has telegraphed to London unanimously approving M. Poincare's policy.

After resolutely upholding the principle of no moratorium without productive guarantees the Cabinet decided to give M. Poincare complete freedom of action as regards specific points.

The newspapers received the reports of the threatened rupture of the London conference with complete equanimity. It is pointed out that the immediate effect of the rupture would be that France would resume freedom of action but the opinion is expressed that a rupture is improbable. Several papers accuse Mr. Lloyd George of desiring to spare Germany.

Berlin, August 10.—The keenest interest is being taken in the London conference but hitherto there has been little comment. The Vossische Zeitung says that so far every conference of the Entente which has endeavored to solve economic questions politically has ended in a compromise, the result accentuating the economic disorganisation of Central Europe.

The Freiheit expresses the opinion that the rupture of the Entente is very improbable at present.

Manchurian Born Japs To Learn Of Home By Movies

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Tokio, August 6.—For the education of Japanese children and young men born in Manchuria who are ignorant about Japan and the Japanese mode of life, the South Manchuria Railway Company has decided to prepare a series of moving pictures representing the actual conditions of life in the Japanese interior.

The estimated cost is Yen 100,000. The films will take several years to complete.

Indian Growers To Litt Tea Quality

(Reuter's Service)

London, August 11.—The diminishing market for cheap tea has caused the Indian Tea Association to instruct its managers in India and Ceylon to refrain from coarse plucking of the present year's crop, aiming at quality and not quantity. Incidentally, this method is in accord with the policy of restricted production on which teagrowers had agreed.

Industrial Envoys To Visit America

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Peking, Aug. 11.—It is stated semi-officially that the Government has decided to send Mr. Tung Kang and Mr. Chow Tzechi on a commercial and industrial mission to the United States. Unofficial circles, however, believe that the mission will be mainly financial.

DOG DAYS STUFF

By Westa

WHY is it that us golf duffers can't take ten or twelve strokes off our game, and shoot the course in the low eighties or even in the seventies occasionally, instead of always sloshing around between ninety and a hundred?

Jim Barnes, last year's American open champion, says it is because of our weakness in getting up to the pin from just off the green, which is where most of us find ourselves after our second shots.

Jim's analysis undoubtedly is correct, as any duffer can see for himself, either by watching his duffer friends when they play, or by taking a few retrospective glances at some of his own recent rounds.

There is no gdinsaying the fact that the average duffer (and our name is legion) loses a lot of strokes in those short approaches, and that these losses are due to what might be called "flabbiness" in our play when we get near the greens. As a test of the proof of this just try to recall how often you yourself have had to play back to the pin after an approach, due to over shooting the green. If you are an average duffer you will not be able to recall very many such shots. This applies, of course, to short approaches only.

On the contrary, how many, many times have you been disgusted to see your ball roll along a few feet and stop after a flabby attempt to get on and up? Haven't you often felt like taking your driver out of the bag after such a shot and driving the pill over the green and out of the lot?

The ordinary golfer seems, for some reason, to have a deathly fear of hitting the ball too hard when he is playing up to the pin, both in short approaching and in putting. And this, as Barnes says, is why we are always ten or twelve strokes over what we feel we are capable of, particularly on days when our work from the tees and through the fairways is uniformly good.

The former open champion says that in a big championship match, where the top notchers are playing, it is noticeable that very few of the players have to "play up" after short approach shots onto the green, or after their approach putts. On the contrary, he says, they are always "playing back," thus showing that on both approach shots and approach putts they played boldly up to the pin, figuring always to go either to the pin or beyond it—never short of it.

Barnes suggests as a method of getting over this flabbiness in approaching that the duffer should start out on one round with the definite intention of slamming every short approach shot up to or beyond the pin, and that he should persist in this determination even if on a few of the holes he hits clear over the green and into the trap or bunker beyond. He says it will do the duffer good to find himself "playing back" occasionally, for the reason that he will then have acquired a little of that boldness of play, lacking which, he can't hope to turn in a low score.

All the foregoing applies, of course, to short approaches. The duffer, as the professional, usually plays his long approaches as best he can. At least the duffer's nautral stock of boldness does not desert him on his long approaches. He may not always get good ones, but that is because of his natural limitations as a player. On the short shots, however, it is not a question of physical force, or even skill. It is more a question of determination. Anybody that can hit a golf ball at all certainly can hit it from thirty to fifty yards. This being true it is only a mental let-up that cause those short approaches to flub along a few feet and stop short, not only of the pin, but even of the green itself.

Anyway, it's a good thing to remember. And maybe, as Barnes says, if we put a little more punch into those just-off-the-green shots we will find ourselves frequently putting for threes or fours or fives, instead of those everlasting and ruinous sixes or sevens or eights.

SEAMEN'S STRIKE SHOWS NO SIGN OF BREAKING UP

While the San Peh Steamship Co. appears to be yielding to the demands of the seamen following the return from Ningpo of the managing director, Yu Yah-ching, no definite action has yet been taken by the China Merchants' S. N. Co. to settle the strike which has tied up 18 of their ships here. The latest to join the walkout is the Kiang Wah, which arrived from Yangtze ports yesterday.

Mr. Yu had a conference with the representatives of the Seamen's Union yesterday and it is expected that some definite understanding will be reached today between the parties.

If an agreement is reached between the San Peh and the seamen, the China Merchants will be the only steamship company that will be affected by the strike, which is a week old today.

Several local organisations, it is understood, are undertaking to mediate in view of the deadlock that has been reached between the company and the seamen.

A telegram from Hankow published in the Chinese press states that the crews on China Merchants vessels in that port have struck also.

It was rumored yesterday that the crew of the Agnes Dollar had gone on strike, demanding that the Robert Dollar Company recognise the demands of the Seamen's Union for acceptance of the Hongkong agreement, but this was denied by the local offices of the company and the Agnes Dollar has cleared port for a run to Kamchatka. The ship only carries a small number of Chinese in its crew and a few of them, evidently in sympathy with the strikers here, had a minor dispute, but did not walk out.

DR. SUN IS DUE IN CITY TODAY, MISSION HERE MYSTERIOUS

Southern Leader To Meet Political Friends

TO JOIN HIS WIFE

Conference May Have Bearing On Peking Situation

Dr. Sun Yat-sen is to arrive in Shanghai today on the steamer Empress of Russia which is due off Woosung from Hongkong about noon. Reasons for Doctor Sun's return from Canton at this time, how long he will remain in Shanghai, or what his present purpose are all things that have not been disclosed.

While those opposed to the Constitutionalist cause ascribe Doctor Sun's return here to flight from General Chen Chuin-ming and assert that he is defeated and crushed, adherents of the Southern cause deny all the recent reports of reverses of Doctor Sun's forces and insist that no decisive engagement has yet taken place in the south. These southern adherents assert that Doctor Sun is returning to Shanghai for important reasons of his own which will be disclosed in due course.

It has been known that representatives of various elements of the dominant faction at Peking have been in Shanghai for the past week or so and Mr. Eugene Chen, personal representative of Doctor Sun, also has been here for the past ten days. The presumption is that conferences between Mr. Chen and these Peking representatives may have opened the way for other conferences for which Doctor Sun has come north. Mr. Chen himself would not admit or deny last night that he has been negotiating with northern agents and he said he could not at this time make any disclosures concerning Doctor Sun's purposes in coming to Shanghai.

Mr. Chen did say, however, in coming to Shanghai Doctor Sun is not running away from the situation at Canton or fleeing from Gen. Chen Chuin-ming. He denied flatly reports of recent battles north of Canton in which the reports said Doctor Sun's forces had been defeated. He asserted that the military situation at Canton remains unchanged and that nothing decisive in the way of an engagement of troops has taken place.

Mrs. Sun Yat-sen has been at the Sun home on Rue Moliere in the French Concession since her dramatic escape from Canton when General Chen's troops overthrew Dr. Sun and captured the city. Dr. Sun will go to his home on Rue Moliere when he arrives.

For some time it has been rumored that Dr. Sun and Tuchun Lu of Chekiang have been carrying on negotiations and there is said to be a possibility that Dr. Sun is merely passing through Shanghai on his way to Hangchow. Whether he intends continuing the Canton Government from Hangchow with Lu's backing or support, or whether his trip there is simply to confer

New Mistress Of The Gould Millions

Mrs. George Jay Gould

THE announcement of the marriage in Paris of George Jay Gould to Mrs. Alice Sinclair, former musical comedy actress, caused a stir in New York society. The first Mrs. Gould, formerly Edith Kingdon, the actress, dropped dead last November while playing golf with her husband at their country home, Georgian Court, Lakewood, N. J. Members of the Gould family are said to have registered no opposition to the marriage.

NANKING YOUTH IS SPEAKER, AT YALE EXERCISES

Frank W. Price Delivers Address On "Friendly Invaders"

Mr. Frank W. Price, son of Dr. P. F. Price of Nanking Union Theological School, who was one of four graduating class at Yale Divinity School last June, was chosen as one of the commencement speakers. His subject was "Friendly Invaders," by which he meant the 10,000 students from 11s countries, who are now studying in American schools and colleges.

Mr. Price states that Columbia University has 65 nations represented in its student body. Harvard, 42; Yale 27. Of Chinese there are 1,600 men and 200 women. In America there are 1,000 Japanese students and many Russians, since the world war; 250 from India and 500 Koreans. So much importance is attached to the presence of these students in the United States that a large club house called the Cosmopolitan Club is being erected on Riverside Drive in New York City as a central home for them.

Mr. Price, in addition to his studies at Yale, is the field secretary of the Chinese Students Christian Association in America, the largest of the Christian organisations among Chinese students closely affiliated with the college and city Y.M.C.A.'s of America.

SEVEN CHARGED IN MIXED COURT IN RICSHA STRIKE

Head of Star Company To Prosecute Alleged Ringleaders

Seven Chinese who are alleged to have incited the ricsha coolies in the West Hongkew district in the recent strike, will be tried before the Spanish Assessor on charges brought by Mr. Benjamin Cohen, president of the Ricsha Owners' Association and owner of the Star Vehicle Company.

The seven were arraigned in the Mixed Court before British Assessor Mead yesterday but after argument by attorneys, the case was remanded for the Spanish Assessor at Mr. Cohen's request. Mr. J. R. Browne, who appeared for the men, asked that they be tried immediately. He argued that the British Assessor was as well qualified to sit in the case as anyone else, and that there was no reason for a remand as this was a crimjnal and not a civil action. Assessor Mead, however, explained that it was an established precedent in the International Mixed Court that where complainant was a foreigner he could claim the privilege of appearing before the assessor of his own nationality.

Despite the fact that the men had appeared in court voluntarily to answer the charges against them, Mr. Haskell opposed their release on bail, arguing that they were the ringleaders in the strike and "are likely to cause trouble."

"THE CHINA PRESS watches things like this and likes to publish long articles about them," Mr. Haskell said. "They like to make a scandal out of things like this."

Bail was finally fixed in the sum of $50 each.

Foreigner Faces Mixed Court On Narcotics Charge

A remand until August 14 was ordered in the Mixed Court yesterday in the case of Antonino Brazzanovich, who is charged with being in possession of 27 pounds of smuggled opium on August 7 when he was searched in Dent Lane. Brazzanovich claimed Italian protection, but the consulate refused to recognise him. In court yesterday, he said he was a Jugo-Slav, but agreed to trial by the Mixed Court. Brazzanovich was released on $100 cash security.

WIDESPREAD HORROR REVEALED IN WAKE OF TYPHOON AT SWATOW

Death Total Mounts As Relief Workers Find New Evidence Of Storm's Great Havoc In South Coast City; Property Loss Collosal

STOCKS IN ALL GODOWNS ARE RUINED

Epidemic Of Cholera Feared By Physicians And Rescue Workers; Conservative Estimates Put Number Of Dead At Thirty Thousand

[China Press Service]

SWATOW, August 8.—Desolate, battered, torn, its streets still filled with the wreckage of sea and land from which rises the stench of thousands of rapidly decaying human bodies, Swatow tonight is attempting to piece together the detailed account of what will probably rank as one of the world's greatest disasters.

So sudden, so complete was the havoc wrought by the typhoon which struck here last Wednesday that the shock and horror of it all is still stupefying the minds of everyone. First reports of casualties, it is now apparent, will require revision, not as generally in the case of great disasters, on a downward scale, but seemingly in a never-ending ascension. The total number of lives lost will probably never be known, but even the most conservative are now inclined to the belief that deaths as a result of the storm in Swatow proper and the surrounding countryside will aggregate at least 30,000.

As the work of clearing up the wreckage progresses it becomes evident, also, that the extent of property damage is greater than at first believed. Fully eighty percent of the stocks carried in the big godowns here are a complete loss, it is said, and with buildings of every character crumbling on all sides, a low estimate of the damage is $30,000,000.

SUDDENNESS, CAUSE

The tremendous loss of life is accounted for principally by the suddeness with which the storm struck. Although there had been high winds, the city generally was normal at 10 o'clock last Wednesday morning. Ten minutes later, five feet of water was sweeping through its streets, hurled forward and lashed into a furious hellstream by winds of hurricane force. There was no opportunity to flee, no vantage point to seek. On the streets, in godowns and factories, in thousands of homes, men, women and children were trapped like rats and had no alternative but to succumb to the boiling waters.

Sizzling live electric light wires, which had been blown down all over the city, added to the peril of the thousands of panic-stricken Chinese. Three thousand, it is estimated, were killed outright by the electric wires alone before the waters reached the power plant and finally shut off the current. The foreign engineer in charge of the plant was away at the time the typhoon hit, and the Chinese in charge in his absence, unaware of the dangers to the fleeing populace, had failed to shut off the power.

Pontoons, wharves and docks which lined the water front were battered to bits by the raging waves. Coastwise steamers were torn from their anchorages. Hundreds of sampans were broken into splinters and their occupants tossed into the water. Sixteen launches which had been tied up in the harbor, are missing without even a trace of their wreckage.

COUNTRY DISTRICTS HIT

It was not Swatow, alone, which suffered, however. In the low-lying densely populated country, from Kikiang to Chowchowfu, over an area of 100 miles, similar scenes were enacted as the unchecked waters rushed on. For the countrymen, there was no protection whatever. Their low-roofed houses in many instances were nothing more than death traps. The sudden, terrifying deluge, gave them no opportunity whatsoever to escape.

In the city, work of gathering the dead and succoring the living is now progressing, with the Chinese soldiery taking charge. In one temple on Kailat Road are piled more than 5,000 uncoffined bodies brought in three and four at a time by a constant procession of coolies and dropped in the temple proper and in the courtyard to await burial which may never come.

How these thousands of bodies are to be disposed of is a problem which is already vexing the authorities. The number of coffins on hand is insignificant in the extreme when compared with the number of dead. Most of the bodies are in such a condition that proper interment will never be possible, and the stench arising from all is such that foreigners are unable to approach within blocks of the building.

Fears are felt that conditions such as these unless they are rapid-

STUDENT CHIEF IN LONDON SAYS BLAND IS WRONG

Chairman Of Central Union Answers His Letter

(Reuter's Service)

London, August 11.—In a letter published in the Times today, Mr. Robert Lim, who signs himself "Acting Chairman of the Central Union of Chinese Students in Great Britain and Ireland," replying to the letter of Mr. J. O. P. Bland dealing with the proposal to apply the Boxer Indemnity to the education of Chinese students in England (cabled July 26), suggests that a grant for educating Chinese in England could be handled by a committee of British and Chinese.

Mr. Lim declares that the methods of government and industry in China depend entirely on the educational antecedents of officials or traders. For example, a large majority of Chinese doctors are American trained; consequently American textbooks, drugs and hospital methods are largely employed. If the British would befriend the Chinese students in England more greatly the effort would not be lost in the promoting of better economic relations between Great Britain and China.

The writer denies that the students desire to dominate China. He says that the Chinese do not desire their education to be carried out at foreign expense; suggestions with regard to the education of Chinese in England were only brought forward when it was indicated that the British Government might see its way to cancel or to remit a portion of the Boxer Indemnity.

Fear Rulings Do Not Protect U. S. In Oil Holdings

(Reuter's Service)

Washington, August 11.—The State Department has issued a statement expressing the opinion that the recent oil land decisions of the Mexican Supreme Court do not effectively protect the rights of American landowners, adding that they apparently establish a precedent in protecting improved oil lands from confiscation but that they do not guarantee lands in which mining has not actually begun.

ly cleaned up, may lead to an epidemic of cholera which may take even a greater toll than the typhoon itself. The greatest difficulty is experienced in obtaining water which has not been contaminated. Appeals have been sent through the Red Cross for supplies of anti-cholera medicines, and these will be distributed generally as soon as they arrive

Siccawei Warns Of Big Storm Due Here Today

Siccawei Observatory issued another typhoon warning yesterday afternoon at 4:20, when the danger signal was hoisted and the typhoon gun fired. It was stated that the storm menacing the coast might strike during the night or this morning, when the gale might make itself felt here. The weather report in the afternoon stated that the storm continued to threaden the coast between Hichan and the mouth of the Yangtsze and that there was probability of rough weather and possibld cyclonic gales here, around the Saddles and on the Eastern and Yellow Seas.

DOCTORS LEAVE TODAY

Unless the typhoon holds shipping in port, the first contingent of relief workers, together with a considerable quantity of supplies, will start for the storm wrecked city of Swatow this morning.

The party consists of one foreign doctor and one foreign nurse and two Chinese doctors and four nurses, while surgical and medical supplies, including remedies for the combating of cholera, are being taken along. The unit leaves by the Butterfield and Swire steamer Soochow

It was hoped to have the ship call at Foochow to pick up a party of relief workers and a quantity of supplies there and then to have the Soochow put into Swatow instead of making her usual direct run to Hongkong. American Consul Price of Foochow had wired the United States Consul-General here asking that the relief ship be requested to make this itinerary, but the danger of meeting a cholera epidemic in Swatow and the frightful condition of the harbor at that port have made the shipping companies reluctant to send their vessels into Swatow until conditions are a little better. Thus the party leaving today will be conveyed direct to Hongkong, where preparations are being made to send them back to the stricken city. In the party are Dr. Max Pfister and Mrs. Pfister, Drs. Yne Ping-shang and Shen Sze-yen and four Chinese nurses.

FEAR CHOLERA SIEGE

Whether other doctors and nurses will be sent from Shanghai now depends upon the receipt of further word from Swatow. The latest cablegrams received state that workers are not so much needed as medical supplies and funds. Particular stress was laid in a wire received by United States Consul-General Cunningham yesterday afternoon on the imperative need for surgical dressings, anti-cholera and anti-blood poisoning remedies and the inference is that if cholera has not already broken out in the typhoon lashed city and its environs its imminence is greatly feared. Relief in the way of funds and food for the destitute is called for in the telegram sent by the American Consul at Swatow and the efforts to raise funds here have been increased by the Chinese and American Red Cross Societies and by other organisations.

The Red Cross has available now about $3,000 and it is hoped that the fund will swell rapidly as sharper realisation comes hereabouts with regard to the extent of the disaster and the great number of persons facing such dire need.

The British American Tobacco Company (China) has already sent $1,000 and supplies of rice to aid the destitute and the company is now spending $5,000 in this connection.

Kiukiang Quiet, Police Rewarded

(Chung Mei Service)

Peking, August 7.—Kiukiang is getting back to calm again after its pillage and burning by the troops of the Province. Peace is being maintained by a detachment of artillery and infantry in addition to the police.

Because of the good work of this defense force, a public subscription has been taken up with the result that $3,000 was raised for distribution to these soldiers and police.

No claims have been made on the Central Government for property destroyed in the fire, although a small amount of damage is said to have been suffered by non Chinese residents in Kinkiang. It is considered that any such claims will be settled locally in order to make as little fuss over the unfortunate affair as possible.

Admits Theft From Home Of Foreigner

Sung Yung-hui, who says he is a broker, admitted in the Mixed Court yesterday that he had attempted to burglarise the home of Mrs. Broomhall, 146 Range Road. Mrs. Broomhall testified that Sung, after stealing two raincoats, two umbrellas, a gold brooch and an accordion from her home, had been chased by her houseboy and caught. At the request of the police, the case was remanded for a week to permit further inquiries.

Robbery Suspect Not French Citizen

Jean Laglaize, who has been arrested in connection with the robbery of a Chinese hong at 559 Foochow Road in which a quantity of clothing and opium was stolen, is not a French citizen, as previously reported. Laglaize, on being arrested by the Settlement Police, set up a claim to French citizenship. The French Consulate-General, however, declares that he is the son of a Chinese woman in Canton, and is not entitled to French protection. He was therefore turned back to the Settlement Police and will be tried in the Mixed Court.

Urge Of Movies Downward Says Magazine Editor

(Reuter's Service)

Chicago, July 20.—The movies are setting the artistic standard for the next generation a standard which is "too low, which suppresses and which does not give a spiritual uplift" according to Miss Harriet Monroe, editor of Poetry.

"America is becoming too much standardised in everything," said Miss Monroe. "What we need is room for the creative genius of people to get to work. Everything is made to order for them now."

Of course people in large cities have an opportunity to see variety in art, but those in the small towns,—why, they are left utterly without anything except the movies."

Every small town, Miss Monroe added, should have its own miniature art gallery, an experimental theater where budding dramatists can try out their ideas in play writing and where aspiring amateurs can develop.

FOR REMOVING SUPERFLUOUS HAIR.

No woman who has any sense of beauty will deny that superfluous hair is one of the greatest drawbacks to good looks.

Realising this, women of all times have put themselves to any expense and have endured considerable pain and discomfort in order to rid themselves of this great disfigurement.

Nowadays electrolysis is a prevalent "cure" for this evil, but in reality this process involves a great deal of unnecessary expense, waste of time and pain.

The simplest quickest, and most effective treatment can easily be carried out by any sufferer, in the privacy of her home. This is the recipe:

Procure about 1 oz. powdered pheminol from your chemist; mix a sufficient quantity with a few drops of water into a stiff paste. Apply this carefully and thoroughly to the hair you wish to remove, and allow the paste to dry. In a few minutes it can be gently scraped away. The skin is left absolutely free from hair, and should then be carefully washed in warm water, and if desired, lightly dusted with a little talcum powder. (Advt.)

Irregulars Still In Cork, Is Belief

(Reuter's Service)

London, Aug. 11.—The actual position in Cork is obscure. The irregulars do not appear to have evacuated the city up to the present although many buildings, including military and police barracks are being burnt. The Nationals are consolidating their position preparatory to completely investing the city, news of the fall of which is hourly expected. Meanwhile, heavy fighting is proceeding.

London, August 10.—The Irregulars are apparently preparing to evacuate their important stronghold of Cork. The Government House and other buildings are in flames, according to passengers who arrived today at Liverpool. The Republicans are firing machine guns and rifles from the hills on both sides of the river. It is reported that bridges connecting with outlying towns have been blown up. The public buildings at Queenstown are reported to have been burnt down.

NEW EMPRESS SHIP ARRIVES - EARLY TUESDAY

Public Reception Postponed Until Return To Shanghai

Due to the fact that the Empress of Australia left Vancouver later than scheduled and will consequently be delayed in its arrival here, there will be no public inspection of this newest of Canadian Pacific liners on its trip through Shanghai next Tuesday. It is expected, however, that a public inspection will be arranged when the vessel returns to port here on August 26 en route to America.

The Empress of Australia is scheduled to arrive from Vancouver and Japan ports at 2:30 a.m. Tuesday and will anchor off Woosung. It will sail at 12:30 p.m. the same day for Manila and Hongkong. The tender with incoming passengers is expected at the Customs Jetty at 9:30 a.m. and the tender with passengers for Manila and Hongkong will leave the jetty at 10:30 a.m. The Australia is bringing sixty passengers from Vancouver.

The Empress of Australia was built at the Vulcan Works, Stettin, of the Hamburg-America Line, and was originally named the "Tirpitz." She was launched in 1913, but owing to the war was not completed until 1921, when she was claimed as reparation tonnage and handed over to the British Government, which, in turn, sold her to the Canadian Pacific Steamships.

Since the purchase, the vessel has undergone a thorough overhauling, and has been adapted for burning oil fuel instead of coal. The public rooms have been refurnished, and provision has been made for the accommodation of Asiatic steerage passengers.

The principal dimensions of the Empress of Australia are: Length b.p., 588 feet; breadth, 75 ft.; depth to upper deck, 46 feet, 2½ inches. She is of the shelter-deck type, with a continuous bridge deck extending the full length of the vessel. Above the bridge deck are lower and upper promenade decks, extending fully half the length of the vessel, and above the upper promenade deck is a boat deck. There are two complete tween decks below the shelter deck, and lower and orlop decks at the fore and low deck at the after end of the ship.

AERO CHIEF WARS ON ANHUI TUCHUN

Ultimatum Addressed To Chang Wen-sung To Disband His Forces

(China Press Correspondence)

Anking, Aug. 1.—A proclamation has been issued by Colonel Fan Tseng-wu, in command of the landing forces of the Aeronautical Corps of the Central Government, demanding curtailment of the forces of Chang Wen-sun, Tuchun of Anhui, and the abolition of the tuchunate. A translation of the proclamation follows:

"Our army arrived in Tungchi, Anhui, the day before yesterday. On account of military necessity, strict secrecy was observed and no notice was given before hand. However, on account of the fact that the local public did not understand clearly the reason why we had returned to Anhui they had repeatedly asked the company, stationed in Tungchi under the command of Captain Yieh, to formulate plans to protect us.

"Fortunately, the company consists of troops originally recruited in our own province and understood the real motive of our army. They transferred themselves to Shuning in order to avoid any possible misunderstanding and to exempt the district from possible bloody warfare.

"Our forces entered Li Yuan on the following day in order to allow the public to understand our real purpose and enable Chang Wen-sung to apprehend the situation. To our surprise, the local public still doubted our motive and actually despatched provincial troops to Tungchi, while Shang Wen-sung persistently resisted our army.

"The mutiny in Shouhsien has not yet been quelled. Another outbreak has taken place in Szechuen. Yinshan has been lost to the rebels, while Kuocheng is urgently appealing for reinforcements. It seems that the entire province of Anhui is being involved in warfare and the most terrible consequences are awaiting us. We could no longer tolerate this, so we marched our army forward, reaching Kiangwan on July 31.

"It must be understood that I have made this move solely for the purpose of saving our native land. There is not the slightest idea for selfish interest. If Chang Wen-sung would repent his past deeds and voluntarily dissolve his forces and leave Anhui, or if the elderlies and brethern in this province have some other plans whereby the abolition of the tuchunate and the curtailment of troops might be realised, I shall willingly abandon my military position and refrain from conducting any further warfare."

Dr. Koo Surprised At Offer Of Post As Foreign Chief

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Peking, August 11.—When Dr. Wellington Koo assumed office as foreign Minister on August 7, in the course of an address to the staff he stated that he had been so long away from China that he was out of touch with Chinese affairs. In the gathering welcoming him he saw many old comrades to whom he looked for cooperation, without which his efforts would be considerably impaired. When he returned to China he had no thought of obtaining the Foreign Affairs portfolio. His object had been merely to take a holiday after seven years of continuous work abroad. He had also wanted to study the present, political conditions in China in order to be better informed when he resumed his duties abroad.

It is officially stated that the Chinese Government is considering the appointment of an official qualified to hold the important post of Minister in London and who would meet with the approval of the British Government.

FOREIGNERS UP ON CHARGES OF ROBBING CHINESE

Kay And Davis Brought To Trial In Police Court

Trial of Harold Kay and F. W. Davis, who are charged with robbing premises at 559 Foochow of $250, a quantity of opium and clothing after representing themselves to be police officers, was begun yesterday morning before Magistrate G. W. King in the British Police Court and the case was adjourned after evidence had been given. Another foreigner implicated, Jean Laglaize, is being charged in the Mixed Court, as is also a Chinese, while the police are looking for three other Chinese said to have taken part in the raid.

Outlining the case for the police Mr. R. C. Faithful said, that the conclusion had been reached that the raid had been carefully planned. The other foreigner arrested, he said, was found in possession of a note believed to have been written by Davis and asking whether he would be willing to participate in an opium "job." Eight or nine Chinese were willing to help, the note said. The plan was to hire a motor car at 1:15 p.m. after which the party drove to several places. Kay and Davis were picked up near Hongkew Park and the other man near Szechuen Road.

Mr. Faithful remarked that at the last hearing the defendant Kay had stated that a Frenchman named Gutter was with them and evidence would be adduced to show that Davis signed the motor car chit with the name "L. Gutter," 19 Park Lane. Mr. Gutter, of the B. A. T., acutally lived at this address and would appear and disclaim all knowledge of the chit. The signature was certainly not his.

After the Magistrate had announced that he intended to try the case summarily, Mr. Faithful stated that since his arrest Davis had made a voluntary statement to the police. A Chinese employe of the Central Garage testified that someone had asked for a car on the evening of August 7, giving the name of Mr. Gutter, 19 Park Lane.

Sing Song-ming, of the soap shop at 559 Foochow Road which was victimised, said that on the night in question at about 9 o'clock, Kay entered the place, accompanied by a fat Chinese, and by three or four other Chinese of the loafer class. The fat Chinese stated that they were from Central Police Station and came to search the premises. The fat Chinese asked for the proprietor and on being told that he was in Chekiang asked that he be sent to the police station on his return. Kay and the other foreigners had then gone to the accountant's office and removed a big box containing new clothing, a box containing opium and a cash box containing $250. Kay, who had previously told the witness that he must come to the police station, took the latter to the alleyway, then said he had changed his mind and let him go. The loafers carried out the boxes.

At the resumption of the hearing in the afternoon a statement of Davis' was read to the effect that he had taken part in the raid after having been approached by Chinese.

The case was adjourned.

MRS. A. C. DIXON

(China Press Correspondence)

Kuling, August 7.—Funeral services for Mrs. A. C. Dixon, wife of the former pastor of the London Taberna le, took place in the Union Church this afternoon and were followed by interment in Kuling Cemetery. Mrs. Dixon died suddenly on Sunday, following a short attack of spinal meningitis, her death occurring while her husband was preaching at the morning service. The noted divine finished the sermon, but broke down at its close.

Dr. and Mrs. Dixon came to China in response to the invitation of the missionary body in order to hold meetings at the various summer resorts. Dr. Dixon, who is a North Carolinian and a member of the Baptist denomination, has served in many large American churches and is especially known for his ministry in the London Tabernacle.

The funeral sermon for Mrs Dixon was preached by her husband.

PREPARE TESTS FOR EINSTEIN LIGHT THEORY

Plates Of Heavens Where Sun Will Be Eclipsed Taken To See If Beams Bend

(Reuter's Service)

Papeete, Tahiti, June 22.—Preliminary observations were made here in April and May by Dr. Robert Trumpler, assistant director of the Lick Observatory on Mount Hamilton, California, in preparation for final astronomical observations in northern Australia to prove or disprove the part of Einstein's theory of relativity which has to do with the composition and characteristics of light.

Various Astronomical expeditions will gather on the northern coast of Australia on September 21 to take their observations when the sun goes into total eclipse that day. Dr. Trumpler's work here has been to photograph, on a large scale, the stars in that part of the heavens where the sun will be on September 21. On the day of the eclipse when the sun is totally obscured and the stars are visible, similar photographs will be taken on the same scale.

LIGHT IS MATTER

Einstein's contention is that light is not, as scientists hitherto have held, the very rapid vibrations of the all-pervading ether, but is made up of electrons and therefore is a form of matter. If light is matter in any form it will be subject to the law of gravitation, and it is to establish or disprove this point that the observations are being made here and in Australia.

If Einstein's theory of light is well founded, according to Dr. Trumpler, the rays of light from a star in that quarter of the heavens passing by so large a mass as the sun will be deflected by the force of the sun's gravitation and the star in question will appear on the photographic plate at a place slightly removed from its true position in a direction away from the sun's disk.

The amount of this displacement, according to Einstein, should be in a star at the edge of the sun's disk, 1.75 seconds of arc, and in less proportion in other stars as their distance from the edge of the disk increases.

WHAT PICTURES SHOW

The two sets of photographs referred to will enable astronomers easily to detect these variations in apparent position.

The plates made at Tahiti three or four months before represent the true position of the stars, while photographs made at the time of the eclipse will indicate the variations, if any, due to the action of the sun's force of gravitation.

Superimposing these two sets of plates will detect with accuracy whether or not the rays of light from the various stars have been influenced by the mighty force of gravitation of the sun, near which they have passed and so will prove or disprove, it is contended, that part of Einstein's theory.

The preparations by Dr. Trumpler have been very complete, so that all that part of the sun's disk will be accurately recorded and decisive results are expected from his investigations.

Prospects Good For British Fair

EXHI... XX

(Reuter's Service)

London, August 10.—As an illustration of the prospects of the British Empire Exhibition of 1924 being the greatest Exhibition ever held it is pointed out that hitherto Australia is spending £250,000 and India £167,000 while South Africa has provided in this year's estimates for £30,000 and the Federated Malay States the same amount. Space has been alloted to the Gold Coast and Nigeria while New Zealand and Canada have not yet settled the extent of their participation. Already 850,000 square feet have provisionally been alloted to the Dominions, not including Canada and New Zealand, as compared with 110,000 square feet occupied by the Dominions in the Franco-British Exhibition of 1908.

TOUSSAINT AND CARNAVARRO LOSE SEMI-FINAL TO WADE AND SHELDON, 5-7, 7-5, 4-6, 11-13

Brilliant And Even Tennis Decided Only By Breaks Of Play; Champions Lose Chance At Ownership Of Cup; Roberts-Dawson And Parbury-George Tie 2 Sets All

Toussaint and Carnavarro, doubles champions of Shanghai since 1920 lost their right to compete further for the 1922 title yesterday afternoon, when on the Cricket Club Courts, they lost in the semi-finals to Sheldon and Wade, 5-7, 7-5, 3-6, 11-13. The sets were the best that have ever been seen here in tournament competition. The play, game for game and point for point was absolutely even until the veteran Toussaint finally dropped the ball into the net after a brave try to return a smashing, killing drive from Wade's racquet in the 24th game of the final set. Sheldon and Wade played championship tennis yesterday, but Toussaint and Carnavarro played right with them throughout, and lost only through the ordinary breaks of excellent play.

Sheldon and Wade took the play in hand from the beginning, the champions playing the easier safe and waiting game. The pace set by the challengers was fast and hard, and only experienced play kept the scores at even for Toussaint and Carnavarro. Sheldon was using a varied and very effective service and following with a heady, smashing attack protected by very careful and active defense. Wade was playing the game of his doubles career. His service too was getting in and his brilliant placements went far toward deciding the match. He netted more balls than any other of the four but he got enough of his drives over the net to more than equalise.

CHAMPS PLAYED SAFE

Toussaint and Carnavarro played safely through the first half of the match but then when their title appeared to be in danger, they came into the game in earnest, engaging in many brilliant rallies, holding the opposition's best for equal points. They took the match to a real battle in the last set. They might even have won had they played Sheldon's and Wade's own game from the beginning.

Games went to the server for the first ten games of the first set, when Sheldon and Wade won two successive games for the set. In the 11th game Toussaint cutted two and netted another, which with Wade's nice placement gave the honor against a mern 15 for Toussaint's side on Wade's one out. The final game was a love affair, Carnavarro and Toussaint each netting one, Toussaint driving another off the court, followed by a nice placement by Wade.

Games were brought to five-all in the second set again with the server always taking his service. Toussaint's side won the 11th game on three nets and an out by the opposition. The twelfth went to deuce, when two beautiful placements by Carnavarro and Toussaint after long and thrilling rallies decided the set in favor of the Champions.

The third set was the easiest of the match. It was taken by Sheldon and Wade, 6-3. The first four games were won alternately with the server always making good his attack. Sheldon and Wade took the fifth and sixth, the former on Carnavarro's double serve and Toussaint's net after one deuce, and the latter after the second deuce on a placement by Wade and an out by Toussaint. The champions won the seventh game on a love score, but lost the next two partly on their own errors and partly on placements by the challengers.

FOURTH SET A THRILLER

The final set was a thriller. The champions often came up to the net and played the same game that Sheldon and Wade were bringing to them, with the result that many flashy rallies were seen in the fore court, and much really brilliant tennis was shown. Twenty two games passed, each going to the server, with honors still even when Sheldon and Wade broke through for the win and the right to the finals, on strong smashing placements and kills. Sheldon scored two earned points in the 23rd game, Carnavarro netted one and Toussaint finally outted another after some difficult short play. Wade killed two in the final game, after Carnavarro had netted one and outted another. Toussaint made a desparate try to save the last point but he could do no more than lift the hard driven ball from the games and drop it into the net.

Australian Wins In Semi Finals; Beats Frenchman

(Reuter's Service)

New York, August 10.—Mr. Gerald Patterson (Australia) today defeated M. Gobert (France) in the Davis Cup semi-final, 4-6, 3-6, 6-3, 6-4, 6-3. M. Gobert was forced to let the deciding point pass him because he wrenched his thumb earlier in the match.

NAVY NINE IN NINTH INNING WIN OVER MARINES 5-0

Peking, August 8.—After playing eight innings of fast baseball during which neither team could score, the Marine nine went completely up in the air in the last inning of yesterday's game with the Sailors, and allowed the representatives of the Navy to score five times.

A very different brand of ball was put up by the Sailors than they displayed last Friday and the 5 to 0 victory they won was well deserved, with Ward pitching good ball and allowing but three scattered hits.

The Marines played well with Bailey on the mound holding his opponents to one hit, until the fateful ninth when they gave the game away on a silver platter with the Sailors deserving to win in that they made the most of their opportunities.

A base on balls, one hit, and costly errors by Donovan and Knauf accounted for the runs of the Sailors with an extra one added when Bailey let the catcher's return throw roll out into center field.

Three more games are scheduled between the Marines and the Sailors to be held on the Marine Field on the first three days of the week at 3:30.

FILIPINO BASEBALL

The C. A. C. 'Varsity Nine, claimants for the pennant of the Shanghai Minor League, are billed to meet the Filipino All-Stars at the Nanyang 'Varsity Ground, Jessfield, tomorrow morning at 9:30 o'clock.

The Filipino All-Stars will line up as follows: C. Fajardo catcher; B. Bonita pitcher; J. U. Emil 1st base; H. Toledo 2nd base; C. Acuning 3rd base; L. Failleo shortstop; N. Cuadra, r.f. C. Gregorio c.f., J. Rupert, l.f. Inocencio substitute.

TIENTSIN CLAY BIRD SHOTS NOT SET FOR MATCH

It had been hoped that the Shanghai Clay Pigeon Club Murray Cup would be shot for today the date specified in the Rules of the Competition, and Tientsin was fully expected to compete but a cable received yesterday advised "No team twelfth." Last year the competition was postponed until September, and no doubt mail advices from the Northern Port will state if they find it more convenient to shoot later on in the season.

Hankow have written to the effect that owing to the absence from the Port of a number of their Gun Club Members they regret being unable to enter a team this year but hope to be in a position to do so in 1923.

Advice has been received from Hongkong that a Clay Pigeon Club does not exist there.

The Shanghai Clay Pigeon Club will hold their usual sweep competitions on Sunday afternoon and shooting members are requested to be on the Club grounds half past four sharp.

FORT MILLS NINE ARRIVES; TO OPEN SERIES TODAY AGAINST SHANGHAI TEAM AT 4 O'CLOCK

Kingman Likely Will Hurl Opener Against The Philippines Champs; Tentative Schedule Lists Locals For Four Straight Against Army; Meiji Starts Here Friday

The Shanghai baseball nine will start a series this afternoon at 4 o'clock on the local lot with Fort Mills, the best nine in the Philippines which has been playing the teams in north for the title in the Far East. The series which will run to four games at least will go far toward establishing Shanghai's right to the championship of the Orient. The Fort Mills nine arrived in Shanghai last night from Tientsin.

The local management has put out the following tentative schedule for immediate games since the arrival of Fort Mills.

Today at 4 p.m., Shanghai vs Fort Mills.

Sunday at 4 p.m. Shanghai vs Fort Mills.

Tuesday at 4:30 p.m. Shanghai vs Fort Mills.

Thursday at 4:30 p.m. Shanghai vs Fort Mills.

Friday at 4 p.m. Fort Mills vs Meiji University.

Dates from that date on will depend upon the availability of both the Fort Mills and the Meiji Nine. Should the Army team stay over for later games, they will be matched with Meiji for a total of three games and may play Shanghai more than the number already listed. Should the Army nine leave at the next week end for their post Shanghai will play Meiji four games or more on approximately alternate dates until their projected departure after the 27th.

The games today and tomorrow will mean much to Shanghai in the way of establishing the local nine's ranking in Far Eastern baseball. Should the local team beat the Philippine army nine on the series they will have qualified to meet the Marines from Peking and the Infantry nine from Tientsin in later series with a first claim for the title of the Far East.

Harry Kingman will probably pitch this afternoon's game with either Cy Wilhoit or Capt. Hopkins covering first base. John Scott will do the hurling tomorrow with the same choice for the initial sack. The local nine is in perfect condition for the hard series in front of them, due to the recent rest and are certain to put up a game that will show Major Dent's nine that Shanghai is a baseball town worthy of consideration for the best titles in the Far East.

AT THE COUNTRY CLUB

Parbury and George took the first set against Roberts and Dawson in the off semi-finals played at the Country Club. The score was 6-2. The winning pair took the first three games easily enough and then lost the fourth and fifth. The next three games however came without too much opposition.

Roberts and Dawson got well into the game in the second set and took the next two sets at 6-4, bringing the match to two gets to one in their favor when the long third set was begun. Roberts was playing a strong game and Dawson, after the first set, held him up splendidly.

The first two games of the third set went to Roberts and Dawson at 4-1 each, Parbury and George by a rally took the next four, when Roberts and Dawson again took the lead by capturing the seventh, eighth and ninth games. Honors were evenly divided from then on in spite of the final outcome. Parbury and George took the 10th and 11th games, lost the 12th and then won out in the 13th and took a final love game for the set.

The fight was an interesting one from beginning to end. Murray is one of the most able American prizefighters. He once had a draw with Eddie O'Dowd.

Pancho had the advantage over his opponent with his terrific punches and startled the spectators with his powerful blows with which he severely chastised Murray the last three rounds.

Pancho, fighting with the agility of a machine, forced Murray to the ropes and to cover himself in defense against Villa's attack. Murray was only able to touch Villa in a few cases with light jabs to the face.

"THE SECRET OF SUCCESS"

Many people are looking for it in vain. In the Aerated Water business, it is easy to find, and may be expressed in one word "QUALITY." If the quality is not right, all your other efforts are wasted. For that reason we buy everything used in the preparation of our Aerated Waters of the best quality only, and we invite an inspection of our books to prove it.

Another point with us, of equal importance, is that everything in connection with the preparation of our Aerated Waters is

"ABOVE BOARD"

We do not want to shut ourselves in within a high wall while working, and we have no secrets. If you care to visit our factory at any time, we shall be pleased to show and explain everything to you. It will surprise you to see the infinite care taken to ensure the purity of our Waters.

Support the officers of the Health Dept. by seeing for yourself as well.

Rail Workers At Hankow Object To Belgian Official

(Independent News Service)

Hankow, August 7.—The Railroad Workers Club of the southern section of the Peking-Hankow Railway at Kiangan has announced that about 20 workers on this section have been on strike since August 4 as a protest against Mr. Lootens, a Belgian engineer and Chief Traffic Inspector of the southern section, who is charged with favoritism and harsh treatment of Chinese workers.

The workmen said that Mr. Lootens had recently discharged three foremen without any justifiable ground against any misconduct on their part. Mr. Lootens did this, they say, under the pretext of strict retrenchment now being enforced, while in reality he replaced these foremen with successors from among his own favorites.

The Club has circularised an appeal to the various labor unions now in existence in Hankow, Wuchang and Hanyang, and the railway administration and the Ministry of Communications in Peking urging them to give the workmen justice against the foreign engineer.

Japanese Traders In China Fear Loss In Postal Changes

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Tokio, August 5.—The Government's decision to withdraw the Japanese post offices in China is regarded by the majority of the Japanese traders resident in the Republic with much concern.

They are afraid that after the abolition of the Japanese postal services in China, the Sino-Japanese trade will suffer no small inconvenience, and even loss, unless some special remedy is adopted having due regard to the fact that the Sino-Japanese transactions in different Chinese localities have hitherto been made almost entirely through post offices instead of through banks.

The residents will shortly send their executive committee to the Home Government with a written appeal in this respect.

MAMMOTH FIND OF PREHISTORIC BONES IS MADE

Mastodons And Tracks Of Three Toed Denizens Of Long Gone Age Found

(Reuter's Service)

Edmonton, Alta, Aug. 10.—In a valley of the far northern section of British Columbia, close to the Yukon border, which it is believed was never before visited by a white man, Mr. Frank Perry, mining engineer of Vancouver, has discovered the remains of mastodons that once roamed Northern Canada.

The location of the valley is not marked on maps, but it is north and west of the headwaters of the Findlay river. Indians will not travel through the valley, believing it to be haunted by the giant animals whose bones they have seen.

In addition to the bones there are footprints in the sand-stone and shale of some other pre-historic monster; these are clearly defined marks showing that the maker of the tracks was a three-toed animal.

The bones, which are of great size, are not fossilised but are in a state of excellent preservation. Hip bones and sections of the spine were found by Mr. Perry, who believes that by excavation specimens of much prehistoric value could be unearthed.

Mr. Perry, a recent visitor here, spent 14 years in the far northern territory in the quest of minerals, two pack dogs being his companions.

Neither canoes nor pack horses can be used to gain access to the district where these remains were found, and so far the only manner of travelling has been to live on the game, using dogs to pack the camp equipment on their backs.

It requires a year to make the journey in this way, although an airplane could cover the distance in a few days.

Threats Hurled In Italian Chamber

(French Wireless Through Reuter)

Paris, August 10.—After the reading of the Government program in the Italian Chamber a Fascisti deputy, Signor Guinta, threatened to shoot another deputy who had declared that the proletariat would defend itself by force of arms.

Another Fascisti deputy, Signor Arpinitti, was disarmed when he was about to fire.

In the course of the debate a Socialist deputy, who is a director of the journal Avarro, was slapped in the face by Signor Guinta.

According to the Tribuna the Fascisti have decided to vote against all measures of the present Government.

(Reuter's Service)

Roma, August 10.—The Chamber of Deputies today passed a vote of confidence in the Government by 247 votes to 121.

Shantung Envoys Debate Old Issues

(Chung Mei Service)

Peking, August 7.—The First Section of the Sino Japanese Joint Commission held a regular meeting this morning. The Japanese Commissioners laid before the Commission the following:

The reply to the Chinese proposal at the last meeting for the cancellation of the permit authorising the establishment of the electric plant (or power house) at Shatang.

The reply to the Chinese proposal for the transfer of the Customs Sub-Committee of the disposal of the light house and harbor administration building.

Memorandum for the interpretation of Articles 23 and 24 of the Shantung Treaty.

Contracts concerning the public benevolent institutions.

The Chinese Commissioners reserved the right to reply to the Japanese statements one, two ann three at the next meeting. Contracts as stated under the fourth paragraph will be disposed of together with others of the same nature.

The Japanese Commissioners presented their views in regard to public enterprises concerning electric light, stock-yard and laundry. The Chinese commissioners, combatted the Japanese views. Discussion lasted a long time without any result and is to be continued at the next meeting.

The Japanese Commssioners inquired about the degree of foreign representation in the management of public works as stated in Paragraph 2, Annex 11. The Chinese commissioners stated in reply that this would be provided for in the Tsingtao Municipal Charter, which is being drafted.

Japanese Vessel Seized In Szechuen

(Independent News Service)

Hankow, August 6.—An upriver steamer of the Japanese Tenge Poko Steamship Co. on the Ichang-Chungking run, was recently commandeered by troops of the Second Army of Szechuen at Ichang for transporting troops to Chungking.

The Japanese captain of the boat when requested by the commanders to lend them his boat, strongly refused to do so on the ground that it had got a full shipment of cargo as well as passengers. But the militarists eventually commandeered his vessel by force.

The Japanese shippers have lodged a protest with Mr. S. Bando, Japanese Consul at Chungking, urging that strict measures should be taken to deal with the Chinese government against such outrage.

The fighting in Szechuen is reported to have resulted in a victory for the Second Army under General Yang Sen. The Szechuen First Army under General Tan Mao-hsin have been decisively defeated near the Kweichow border after violent operations. General Tan's troops are now in flight in the direction of Peihsien.

Harding Choice Winning In Ohio

(China Press Service)

Columbus, Ohio, August 10.—Political experts have hailed the apparent victory of Thompson in the contest for the Republican gubernatorial nomination as a sweeping victory for the Harding administration policies and prohibition.

The first 939 out of 9000 precincts report 25,224 for Thompson and 11,167 for C. C. Homer Durand, beer and light wine candidate.

In the Democratic nomination for governor A. V. Donahey has so far received 10,847 as against 5413 for his opponent Thomas J. Duffey. Donahey's nomination therefore seems certain.

Congressman Fess has secured a swamping lead in the race for Republican Senatorial nomination receiving 16,201 against 690 for his opponent ex-Senator Dick.

(China Press Service)

Harding Requests Action On Strikes

(China Press Service)

Washington, Aug. 9.—President Harding today requested congressional leaders to hold sessions of the Senate and House when the House reconvenes next Tuesday to consider the menacing industrial situation brought about by many strikes.

Mr. W. H. Johnson, president of the Machinists Union issued figures today to show that unless the shops strike is settled at once it will take the railroads a year to get their equipment into shape again.

Tuchun "Disgusted" By Chinese Press

(Independence News Service)

Hankow, August 7.—Chinese newspapers in Hankow have been outlawed by Tuchun Hsiao Yao-nan because of their unfavorable comments on the Tuchun in the present fight for civil governor in which Hsiao proclaimed himself concurrent governor by flouting Peking's mandate.

The Tuchun has instructed the Commissioners of Police in Wuchang and Hankow to deal strictly with newspapers carrying drastic comments and disturbing literature.

The Tuchun stated that he had always entertained much respect for the Fourth Estate, but during the present civil governor squabble he was disgusted with the papers because of their indiscriminating criticisms.

"Making" A Scandal

ALTHOUGH Mr. R. S. Haskell, attorney, no doubt did not intend it as such, he yesterday paid what must be construed as a compliment to THE CHINA PRESS. Mr. Haskell is attorney for Mr. Benjamin Cohen, head of the Star Riesha Company. He is representing Mr. Cohen in the Mixed Court in an action in which seven coolies are charged with inciting the recent strike of 600 coolies employed by the company. Despite the fact that the coolies had appeared in court voluntarily to answer the charges brought by Mr. Cohen against them, Mr. Haskell opposed their being released on bail. The men were troublemakers, he argued. There was no real basis for the strike.

"THE CHINA PRESS watches things like this and likes to publish long articles about them," said Mr. Haskell in addressing the court. They like to make a scandal out of things like this. Those men are the ringleaders and are likely to cause trouble."

If "making" a scandal can be defined as bringing to light a condition of affairs under which one man is permitted to exploit thousands and exact from them sums which force them to the very brink of starvation solely in order to amass a huge personal fortune, then THE CHINA PRESS admits Mr. Haskell's charge.

Might we not suggest to Mr. Haskell, however, that perhaps the scandal was already there, and THE CHINA PRESS, in its recent articles anent the strike, merely sought to uncover it?

No, THE CHINA PRESS didn't "make the scandal." If there was one we merely exposed it.

A Plea For Justice

Under the above caption we have received the subjoined article from Ida Kahn, M.D., famous Chinese woman physician. Dr. Kahn is a native of Kiukiang. We commend her appeal to the earnest attention of Gen. Wu Pei-fu, who as the most influential northern militarist must be held responsible for the ruthless brutality of the northern troops:

BY IDA KAHN

THE looting of Kiukiang has sent a thrill of horror pulsating through the entire province of Kiangsi. For months the northern troops have harried the people so that peace has not been obtainable at any price. Tens of thousands of people have fled from their homes, not only from the large cities but from the tiny villages scattered up and down this province for over a thousand li. The rich have fled for fear of their lives, and for fear of losing their wealth, but the poor have been rendered homeless by the ravages and oppressions of the soldiery. Their small possessions have been seized or destroyed by these troops, their women have been assaulted, and they themselves have been driven off like cattle to bear the burdens of their masters. A dozen of the largest and fairest cities in the province, such as Kan Cheo-fu, Kian-fu, Fucheo-fu, Chien Chang-fu, Kao Cheo-fu, Chang Shu, Feng Chen-hsien, Kao Ngan-hsien, Sin Chang-hsien, Hsia Kiang-hsien, Yu Kan-hsien, and Tsung Ren-hsien have been looted and burned.

All these things have been done in the name of war, but now when the southern troops have retreated to the uttermost edge of the province, and the northern men are in full control, comes the wanton destruction of Kiukiang, a peaceful city right on the Yangtze, and fully one thousand li from the seat of actual warfare. Does this show that the northern men have administered the affairs of this province in the right way? Do they deserve to be our masters? Are the people to be blamed for sympathising with the southern government when they have not the slightest measure of liberty and justice, not to speak of safety? With tens of thousands of troops in the province, yet they could not keep peace in the only treaty port which we have. What have they done with the millions upon millions of dollars which they have collected from this province that they cannot keep their troops paid up, and thus prevent them from swallowing up the people wholesale, for hundreds of people were killed and drowned in the pillaging and burning of Kiukiang alone.

Have not the northerners seized every decent post in the province? The province is turning with wealth, yet we have not enough money to run our schools, or to keep our streets clean. Everything must go to swell the pockets of our officials, and these pockets are bottomless. Where can we get justice? Is it ordained that the northerners should rule over the southerners for ever? Is this the constitutional government which they think is the right one to foist on to the people? To whom shall we appeal for justice? Why should Wu Pei-fu dictate terms to us as to what officials we shall have? Must we take the off scourings of the north and make them our rulers, so that they may despoil the land?

Let those who have a sense of justice and have been brought up under democratic traditions, let them, I say, not judge the south too harshly when she seeks for a share of justice. If she has a mite of self respect should she not seek justice in order that she may develope herself in the right way? The right of self-determination should not be denied to any person, much less to the hundreds of millions who from time immemorial have shown themselves to be the equals of the northerners. Even now it is foreign gold and foreign arms which are bolstering up these military oppressors, and it behooves the lovers of justice and liberty to see that they no longer support these same oppressors.

America stands for justice and liberty, and we appeal to her to hear the cry of the suffering south. A square deal for all is all that we ask, and justice from our government can compass that. We may be down trodden but we are not beaten yet, and we will never forget any friend who will lend us a helping hand.

A strong China means peace in the world, and a strong China can never appear when there is lack of union in the country, and there can never be union in the country unless there is justice in the government. And there never can be justice in a government imposed upon a people by a ravaging army of rapacious northerners.

Nanchang, Aug. 7, 1922.

All Live Things Can Produce Electricity

To know whether an egg is alive (impregnated) or not, send a strong (electric) shock through it; if it produces an electric response it is alive, writes Prof. D. S. Harris in the Scientific Monthly. Not only has Waller used the electric response as a sign of life, he has also made it a quantitative measure of the degree of vitality. He selected a number of seeds of Phaseolus from one to five years old and tested one of each for the production of electric current. The responses in fractions of a volt were for five years respectively—0.0170; 0.0052; 0.0043; 0.0036 and 0.0014—a very remarkable demonstration of the statistical aspect of nvingness. The older the seed the less the response; it is what one would have supposed, but it could not be taken for granted.

These seeds were dry, they were to all intents and purposes dead; they were lying in a pill-box doing nothing vital, but they were not dead, they were in latent life; they could germinate and they could produce electric current. Drying is an excellent method for sending many living things into la vie latente. It used to be assorted that wheat found in mummy cases could germinate. Marieue, the Egyptologist, definitely denies that this wheat can do so; placed in water it becomes a clayey pulp. It is true, however, that seeds of the gorse have germinated after being thirty years in latent life; seeds after 87 years in a herbarium have sprouted and seeds kept for 200 years have actually produced plants. Becquerel, the French naturalist, submitted the seeds of wheat, mustard and lucerne to the following drastic treatment—having perforated the seedcoats, he dried the seeds in a vacumn at 40 degrees C. and sealed up the seeds in a tube almost exhausted of air for one year, submitted them to the temperature of liquid air (minus 198 degrees C.) for three weeks and of liquid hydrogen (minus 250 degrees C.) for three days and then placed them on moist cotton wool, when they germinated! Some fairy tales are not so interesting as this.

Of Course, You Have Done It

BY DR. CH. FLEISCHER

Yes, of course, you've done it—on occasion broken into verse! They all do it. So why not you? What was your reason?

Love, most likely. For the divine passion is never content with mere mortal prose.

Though any one knows that even the simple words "I love you" constitute the loveliest lyric which human tongue can utter and other human ears receive.

Some who do not habitually poetize are moved to occasional verse by patriotic ardor, by enthusiasm for a cause, or by the contemplation of an occasion, a relationship, or a person, that fairly insists upon some elevated form of utterance.

But you never can tell who will break out or where or when or why, seeking the immortal laurel of Shakespeare, Dante, Homer, or the author of Job.

We all seem to be in danger of emulating that quaint character in Dickens known as Sammy Veller, who was so prone to drop into verse.

What is the poetic prompting, anyhow?

Plainly it is a type of madness, beautiful, artistic, but nevertheless a madness wherewith you escape the dull, drab realities of existence and live for the nonce in the realm of the gods in a higher, finer, rarer ether than is your wont, and you speak or seek to speak the divine speech which befits the heights and the deeps of your nature.

The great poets are they who master this diviner speech and make it the medium of expression for their own ecstacy and the sublime common denominator of universal human nature at its highest and deepest.

And the rest who poetise and who perpetrate their good intentions upon newspapers and magazines, well—they remind one of certain singers. You are saddest when they sing.

But even those singers think that they are blessing you with concourse of sweet sounds. And such poets, too (save the divine hallmark) imagine that they are sharing with you the latest inspiration from Apollo and the Muses.

However, one should not be unsympathetic towards any humblest result from this yielding to the general poetic impulse. For this relates the aspiring versifier to Shakespeare and his strain.

Even as your every original and serious thought proves your kinship to Platois brain. And your every friendly word and feeling shows you to be of a kind

Something To Think About

BY FABIO DEAN

"Rockefeller Thinks More of His Health Than His Millions." So ran one of the headlines over the story which told how the old boy relented and let the newspaper photographers take snapshots of him on his eighty-third birthday.

John D. Rockefeller is a wise man. His achievement in organising a great industry, his use of his wealth and, now, his interest in his health—all are tributes to his wisdom.

At twenty-three youth is too busy amid the petty activities of life to devote serious thought to the possibilities of an eighty-third birthday. And most men who reach that ripe age are too much occupied in clinging to the dwindling threads of life to waste time in thinking about what they were like at twenty-three.

But, oh! dear heart, all that you have, all that is within you, all that is you, at twenty-three, is shaping itself for that possible contingency that you may, some day, be eighty-three. And if that day comes, the you of eighty-three is entirely the result of the scheme you laid out for yourself when you were twenty-three.

Do not imagine for a moment that I am preaching. We're living in an over-preached world. I'm simply trying to convey a thought that occurred to me when I read that headline about John D.

If your idea of life is to loaf, get drunk, shirk responsibility and avoid all thought of the morrow, by all means do it gracefully. Eat, drink and meet Mary, for tomorrow you may die. If, with such an idea, you had sufficient sense to be influenced by a sermon you would have sufficient sense to know how foolish that idea is, even before you heard the sermon. And if you lack will power I cannot give it to you.

But as a plain, mathematical proposition, Mr. Rockefeller's viewpoint today ought to impress you. He worked hard and accomplished great things in his business. He led a simple life. He did not drink or play cards or dance in cabarets until midnight or pick posies along the primrose path of dalliance. He did not drain his supply of vitality for foolish pleasures. And now, at eighty-three, he plays golf and jokes and enjoys his life.

His millions? Two meals a day with a good appetite and a place to sleep are all that a sane man wants at eighty-three. When he passes away he will leave those millions behind. Small wonder that they do not interest him.

The millions are unimportant. But have you ever wondered whether you would have the inclination to play golf and joke and eat a cheese sandwich with enjoyment when you are eighty-three? Or do you imagine that this could only come about if you first possessed the millions?

Just think about it.

"I Tell It To You"

BY DAMON RUNYON

One of the kindliest men we ever knew was a colored man called "The Denver Shine."

His business was safe blowing, afterward we learned that he was one of the most expert "peter men" in the land, highly skilled in the extraction of other people's money from their strong boxes.

A most reprehensible occupation, to the sure, and one for which "The Denver Shine" was subsequently severely punished. But despite his sinister calling, "The Denver Shine" was the soul of courtesy and thoughtfulness.

We met him by chance in the railroad yard at Dodge City, Kan., years ago, when both of us were moving toward the setting sun along the right of way of the Atchison, Topeka and Sante Fe Railroad.

It was "The Denver Shine" who, exerting himself beyond the ordinary amenities of travel, taught a young and callow tourist the knack—perhaps I should say "art"—of slipping easily and gracefully beneath a box car, and riding there on a narrow board called a "ticket," deftly laid across the brakebeams.

This position is not without its inconveniences, and even discomforts, especially in the Summer when the roaring train wheels shake the dobe earth to a silver dust. But then Summer travel westward is never entirely comfortable. Barely did we escape writing it, "particularly on the Santa Fe."

There used to be a brakeman on the Dodge division in those days, a rough hewn character out of La Junta, Colorado, who, apprised of the presence of brakebeam voyagers, would suspend a coupling pin by a wire alongside the box car, the motion of the train swinging his pin up under the car with fearful momentum.

The idea was to knock the casual tourists off their perch, the possible eventualities being of no concern to the brakeman, zealous in his guardianship of the interests of the Santa Fe.

By adroit dodging, one might avoid the wicked pendulum, but it was a nervewracking business. It prevented one from indulging in serious meditation. You cannot keep the mind on the coupling pin and extraneous matters at the same time.

We were crowded pretty close together on the beams, as it was, and this made dodging still more difficult.

Finally "The Denver Shine" put his lips close to our ear, and his voice pounded against our eardrums above the rattle of the train.

"I'm goin' to get off o' here," he said. "He'll see me go, and he won't know there's more than one of us, and will let you 'lone.

"Besides," the voice added, "I've got a bottle of soup in my pocket, and if he hits me it might blow up the whole train. I wouldn't mind blowing him up, but I've got nothing against the rest of the train crew, or the Santa Fe."

The next instant he was gone.

"Soup," as we learned later, is nitro-glycerine.

Of course, it is possible that "The Denver Shine" was thinking some of himself. Men are often most considerate of others when their own interests are at stake.

Still, we always thought it was right nice of "The Denver Shine," at that, and we felt a certain pang of regret when we heard in later years that he had been hanged by the neck, as he richly deserved, until he was very dead.

Pangkalan Durian Estate, Limited

A meeting of shareholders in the Pangkalan Durian Estate, Ltd. (in voluntary Liquidation) was held at No. 1 The Bund at 11:30 a.m. yesterday for the purpose of receiving the Liquidator's report.

Mr. A. E. Stewart, the Liquidator, presided and after reading the notice convening the meeting, said:

Gentlemen:—In accordance with Section 187 of the Companies Ordinances, Hongkong, it is necessary for me to call a Meeting of Shareholders to lay before them an account of my acts and dealings and the conduct of the winding up during the preceding year.

My appointment as Liquidator was made on July 26, 1921 and duly confirmed on August 12, 1921. The object of the winding up was to reconstruct the Company and to write down the shares and obtain further capital.

An agreement was duly completed between myself as the Liquidator of the old company and the Directors of the new company (which was duly formed and registered) by which the new company took over all assets and liabilities whatsoever of the old company and undertook to allot two shares of Tls. 1.00 each in the new company for every one share in the old company and to issue further 90,000 new shares of Tls. 1.00 each and to offer these new shares to shareholders in the liquidating company in the proportion of one new share for every one old share against payment of Tls. 1.00 per share. The issued share capital of the old company was 30,000 shares of £1 each which called for 60,000 shares of Tls. 1.00 each in the new company.

Of these 60,000 shares I have issued to shareholders in the old company 54,048 shares and the balance of 5,952 shares are to be issued to old shareholders as and when applied for in exchange for share certificates in the old company. These 5,952 shares have presumably changed hands (without any transfer being registered in the books of the company) and it is impossible to ascertain the present holders. No doubt the shares will be presented for exchange later on.

All the liabilities of the old company are being defrayed as per agreement by the new company. The assets were also taken over by the new company and therefore no actual property has come into my possession. The title deeds of the estate are now registered in the name of the new company, and I hope to be in a position at an early date to complete the liquidation.

That is all I have to report today, Gentlemen, and I thank you for your attendance.

Exchange Market

In their weekly report on the exchange market, Messrs. Maitland, Fearon and Brand write as follows:

Exchange:—Silver in London declined ¼d. during the past week, today's quotation being 34⅞d., both ready and forward; the market is reported as being inactive. Generally speaking the market locally has ruled easy, and the official T.T. rate on London has been lowered to 2s. 4½d. Speculators have taken advantage of the drop to cover a portion of their overbought position, which coupled with some selling orders from Hongkong today caused a certain firmness and at the close sterling is offering at 2s. 5⅛d., with buyers ⅛d. above this rate. Business in regard to imports and exports is still very small, and there appears to be very little genuine strength in the market.

Our stocks of silver are reported as follows:

Sycee and Bar Silver Tls. 37,354,000, a decrease of Tls. 390,000.

Chinese and Mexican Dollars $34,240,000, an increase of $430,000.

Estimated value Tls. 62,007,000 as against Tls. 45,000,000 held at this time last year.

Cotton Market

In their weekly report on the Shanghai cotton market, Messrs. A. B. Rosenfeld and Son write as follows:

China Cotton.—The undertone of the market during the past week has been a shade on the easy side, due to the continuance of favorable crop advices from the major portion of the cotton belt. However, along the Valley and in the Honan, Shansi, Shensi and Shasi provinces, the crops do not share a similar encouraging report for reasons already stated in our previous circulars. The latest advices from India are encouraging. As a matter of fact, as conditions are at present, a normal crop is looked forward to. The Departments of Agriculture report that the growing crop of the United States are at 70.8% = 11,449,000 bales

The spot situation continues exceptionally quiet. In fact, quieter than we have ever known it to be for some years past. Mills, which have heretofore bought cotton in quantities during July and August for fall positions, are now holding aloof for lower prices.

From the above it will be seen that whatever views are entertained as to the ultimate course of prices, a conservative policy appears to be desirable for the immediate future. The situation continues to hinge on future weather developments and in our opinion holds out prospects for active markets.

Yarn:—The yarn market during the past week has been steady and prices ruling the same as compared with last week's level. Business for export has been booked, some 8,000 to 9,000 bales in all of 20's, 16's, 14's, 12's, and 10's and over 7,000 bales direct booking with our domestic mills is recorded. From present indications a steady market is looked forward to for the near future, but we advise those who bought from local mills recently at lower prices to add to their holdings as we believe purchases on these reactions will prove reasonably profitable in due course.

SPUNT REPORT

In their weekly report on the cotton market, Messrs. J. Spunt and Company state:

China Cotton.—The situation in our market during the past week very closely resembled that prevailing in the previous period and there being very little or hardly any demand for spot deliveries a certain weakening tendency was discernible which may have been also influenced by the gradual declines recently registered in Mid-Americans and Indians.

There are still about six weeks' time before the new season crop will commence to move for marketing purposes, and while no serious complaints can be made about weather conditions so far, seasonable showers at this time would ensure good color and a healthy body in the fibre and to a great extent accelerate harvesting operations.

In the meantime it appears advisable for consumers, whose supplies will not fully last up to the advent of the new season Cotton, to take advantage in the interim of all offerings at reasonable rates. Tone of the market, Easy.

In their report on the coal market, Messrs. Wheelock and Company state:

Japan Coal:—We have to report another fortnight on this market which was only to be expected at this time of the year and it will probably continue slack for the next couple of months.

Fushun Coal:—No change.

Fuchung Anthracite:—The market continues quiet without any changes except for numerous inquiries which have been coming in lately for export over-seas and which may lead to a fair business being done in the future.

Kaiping Coal:—Shipments have now been resumed and it is hoped that imports will arrive with a fair degree of regularity. Stocks are still very short and prices for all grades are well maintained.

CASTORIA

for Infants and Children.

Don't Poison Baby.

FORTY YEARS AGO almost every mother thought her child must have paregoric or laudanum to make it sleep. These drugs will produce sleep, and a few drops too many will produce the sleep from which there is no waking. Many are the children who have been killed or whose health has been ruined for life by paregoric, laudanum and morphine, each of which is a narcotic product of opium. Druggists are prohibited from selling either of the narcotics named to children at all, or to anybody without labeling them "poison." The definition of "narcotic" is: "A medicine which relieves pain and produces sleep, but which in poisonous doses produces stupor, coma, convulsions and death." The taste and smell of medicines containing opium are disguised, and sold under the names of "Drops," "Cordials," "Soothing Syrups," etc. You should not permit any medicine to be given to your children without you or your physician knowing of what it is composed. Castoria does not contain narcotics.

The signature of Chas. H. Fletcher guarantees genuine Castoria

Physicians Recommend Castoria.

"I have frequently prescribed Castoria for common ailments of children with good results."
W. A. CRANDALL, M. D., Buffalo, N. Y.

"I find your Castoria is very beneficial in the treatment of children's ailments."
F. DAVIS, M. D., Chicago, Ill.

"As the father of thirteen children I certainly know something about your great medicine and, aside from my own family experience, I have, in my years of practice found Castoria a popular and efficient remedy in almost every home."
WM. J. MCCRANN, M. D., Omaha, Neb.

"I object to what are called patent medicines, where the maker alone knows what stuff is put in them, but I know the formula of your Castoria and advise its use in proper cases. I judge it to be a very useful, as well as harmless family medicine."
M. R. SIEBE, M. D., Brooklyn, N. Y.

Constantinople Is Calm, Allies Report

(French Wireless Through Reuter

Paris, August 10.—The situation at Constantinople is calm, thanks to the dispositions of the Allied troops. The movements of some Greek troops in the Black Sea is reported.

A great meeting in honor of Mr. Lloyd George took place at Athens. Subsequently a procession, preceded by banners and with a portrait of King Constantine, marched to the British Legation and submitted an address.

Soviet Agent Is Arrested In U. S.

(Reuter's Service)

New York, August 10.—There has been a considerable stir in New York owing to the arrest of Joseph Kowalski who is believed to be an emissary of the Soviet Government of Moscow and who is said to have recently arrived in America from Poland, using a forged passport.

Kowalski, who has just completed a tour of the coalfields, denies that he has any connection with the Soviet but he has been identified by United States officials who were formerly in Russia, as a member of the Cheka (Secret Police) and a Commissar in the foreign service of the Soviet.

SUPER-DURABLE FLAT PAINT
FLAT WALL FINISH
A perfect Paint of smooth surface for Interior Wall Coating

The surface obtainable with this paint is smooth and flat, i.e., it is not a grainy, dead, lifeless finish, but of a velvety texture. It dries in a reasonably quick time, so that work can be carried out effectively, yet has the property of remaining open long enough to enable the worker to cover a large surface of wall without making laps or edges.
Excellent results with Super Durable Flat Finish are easily obtained, irrespective of the skill of the user, and an elaborate preparation of the surface is usually quite unnecessary.
Super Durable Flat Finish has been tried on non-absorbent surfaces of all kinds and where distemper and oil paint have proved prone to shell or flake off, it has always adhered. It gives a lasting finish of surprising beauty.
1 Imperial Gallon covers about 130 square yards one coat.

Exchange Fluctuations

Asia Banking Corporation

August 11, 1922

Spot Bar Silver was unchanged and Forward down ⅛d in London yesterday. New York price is unchanged and the London-New York cross rate has improved to 446. The only change of importance in the Official Rates here today was a rise in the Franc rate to 945.

At the opening business in Sterling was done at 3s. 5d. and in Gold Dollars at 76¼. At the Tiffin interval there were sellers at these rates and buyers at 3s. 5⅛d. for near delivery, and 3s. 5⅛d. for forward, with buyers of Gold Dollars at 76⅜. However, in the early afternoon there were good sellers at these rates and in fact before the close as high as 3s. 5⅛d. for Sterling and 76⅛ for Gold Dollars were done.

However, there was at all times good buyers at these rates and the market closed with no sellers at better than 3s. 5⅛d. and 76¼ respectively. A steadier tone was imparted to our market today by the large amount of Franc Bills which were offered. These were placed in the morning at 980 but in the afternoon nothing better than 987 could be obtained.

China sold a small amount of Silver in London yesterday and India bought. The market closed uncertain. The New York market is easy with sellers at the Official quotation.
